Sir,

I have the honour to state that a cooperative Society on limited liability basis has been organised for the benefit of the employees of the University of Mysore. A provision has been made in the byelaws that the Vice Chancellor of the University shall be the President (Ex-officio) of the society. The relevant extract from the byelaws of the society is enclosed for the information of Government.

As the society is situated at Mysore a district head-quarters place, Rule 6 B of the Mysore Co-opergtive Societies Rule will be applicable to the society unless specially exempted from the operation thereof by Government. According to Rule 6 B all members of the committee of management of a society nave to be elected annually from among the members. But in the case of this society the president being ex-officio, the question of his election does not arise nor is it necessary for him to be a member of the society i.e., hold shares therein. For the successful working of the society it is necessary that the Vice Chancellor of the University should be the president, ex-officio, whether a share-holder or not. I therfore request that Government may be pleased to exempt the Mysore University Co-operative Society Ltd., Mysore, from the operation of the Rule 6 B of the Mysore Co-operative Societies

Rules to the extent that the president of the society need not be a share-holder of the society nor be elected annually as specifically provided for in the byelaws.

I have the hohour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Registrar in charge.

1) In the third para of Rule 6(B) it is stated that nothing in this rule shall apply to any other co-operative institution which may be exempted by law from the operation of this rule. It is not true the exemption is known for in the case of the Area marketing societies recently started. A specific exempting the societies is also necessary

Routine Notes. 2501/AF

[To be used only for notes, requisitions, etc., not intended for permanent record.]

It is felt that the Registrar has recommended that the President of the Society need not be a shareholder nor be elected annually. But the draft as altered will mean only that he need not be elected annually but he shall be a shareholder in the Society. This is not in accordance with the recommendation of the Registrar. The bylaw as framed by the Society states that the Vice Chancellor shall be President ex-officio. Subject to / orders whether the draft altered / may come for pursuant to orders.

EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT.

The management of the Society shall vest in a Board of Directors consisting of:-

1. a President
2. two Vice Presidents

and 3. twelve members

The Vice Chancellor of the University of Mysore shall be the ex-officio President of the society.

The General body shall at every annual general meeting elect 14 persons to be Board of Directors, exclusive of the President in accordance with the Election Rules under the Mysore Co-operative Societies Act. Out of the fourteen thus elected, two shall be appointed by the president as Vice-Presidents. The Board shall elect from amongst themselves, one or more honorary secretaries and such other office-bearers as the work of the Society may require. The Board of Directors shall be the supreme executive authority of the society and shall be responsible to the General Body for the efficient management of the society.
